PANEL VIEWS

6. The Panel welcomes the open, transparent style of the report and that it clearly strives to strike a balance between providing a level of information that is clear and comprehensible without overwhelming with detail. Members feel that in places, a greater level of detail or context may be welcome for members of the public, particularly where district-based crime statistics are provided. The Commissioner is also invited to review the context given within the draft report around anti-social behaviour (ASB) in York. This is with a view to reflecting on whether this needs to acknowledge that the issues have stemmed from a broader weekend drinking culture and are not purely centred around ASB on race and match days in the city.
7. Overall, Members feel that your report is a fair and honest account of your achievements over the previous year and on this basis I am happy to confirm the North Yorkshire Police and Crime Panel's support for your Annual Report 2015-2016.
