Complaint report

The North Yorkshire Police and Crime Panel complaints sub-committee has published a report which looks into a number of complaints against North Yorkshire Police and Crime Commissioner, Julia Mulligan, about staff relations.

Councillor Peter Wilkinson of Hambleton District Council and chair of the sub-committee said: “Our role is both to support and challenge the Commissioner and throughout this process we have undertaken to be as fair and robust as possible.

“Our findings and recommendations are based on careful deliberation of all the material that has been provided to us.

“The Commissioner has been invited to respond formally to our report within 21 days.”
